The spectacle before us was indeed sublime.

Apparently we had reached a great height in the atmosphere, for the sky was a dead black, and the stars had ceased to twinkle. By the same illusion which lifts the horizon of the sea to the level of the spectator on a hillside, the sable cloud beneath was dished out, and the car seemed to float in the middle of an immense dark sphere, whose upper half was strewn with silver. Looking down into the dark gulf below, I could see a ruddy light streaming through a rift in the clouds.

Hannah Martin is passionate about volunteering and about helping people improve their education. From her time in the Peace Corps and other travels she has gained an understanding and appreciation for various cultures and people.

Education:

In 2015 Hannah graduated from the University of Nebraska Lincoln with a bachelor’s degree in psychology with a minor in French. During college she volunteered teaching English to adults through the Lincoln Literacy Program was a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority and played clarinet in the marching band.

Experience:

After college Hannah applied and was accepted into the Peace Corps. She was stationed in Benin Africa from June of 2016 to August of 2018. In Benin Hannah lived in a small village in the northern part of the country and taught the equivalent of middle school English. While in Benin she participated or organized several community projects such as: hand washing stations at the school, a mural of the globe painted on a school wall, English club, regional teacher training and sponsoring events to empower young women in the community.

Certifications:

From her teaching experience in the Peace Corps Hannah earned her TEFL certification. TEFL stands for Teach English as Foreign Language. I continue to teach adults English part-time through Metropolitan Community College.

To find out more about the TEFL certification please visit

Hobbies:

In her spare time Hannah enjoys cooking, video games, reading and playing with the family dog Millie. Hannah also likes to run and has completed two half marathons. Besides Benin she has been fortunate to have visited several other countries including Spain, France, Togo and Ghana.
